

Piano Bass Strings

The Professionals Choice

Adding tonal colour to your bass

Still made with the same skilled hands

Still pleasing the eye with the same accurate fit

Still resonating the same rich sound

Still globally delighting customers

We are established

EKA was established in 1975 in Oxford England. We are a specialist family owned company, World renowned for manufacturing the finest bass strings for all types of pianos.

We are Global

Having customers globally that purchase the strings on a regular basis, we are fully set up to receive and dispatch our products to any destination and receive payment in any currency.

We are musical and technical

Having studied techniques both historical and new and listened acutely to the tone produced, we have invented our own machinery, designed our own scalings and developed our own manufacturing techniques to produce bass strings that deliver a rich inspiring sound that will stir the heart of any restorer or concert pianist.

Have you tried our new stainless steel range?

Give your best pianos the competitive edge

Amaze your customers with the rich sound and dramatic appearance of our EKA Stainless Steel Bass Strings (made with our new secret formula).
